Section 1 Welcome

On behalf of Exeter College and the University of Exeter we offer you a warm welcome. We hope that you will find your time with us both challenging and rewarding and that you will take away with you memories of good times, both social and professional. Exeter College is an outstanding provider (Ofsted 2022), with teaching and learning at the heart of everything we do.

You have been recruited onto this PGCE/Cert Ed programme because we have recognised your teaching potential and your academic capabilities. This is the first stage of your professional development as a teacher. With your hard work and commitment, we hope that you will develop into outstanding teachers who go on to take advantage of further professional learning opportunities and thus enhance the life chances of the young people and adults that you teach over the course of your career.

We hope that you will feel part of both Exeter College and the University of Exeter. Do remember that you are a registered student at both institutions and are therefore entitled to make use of all facilities, including libraries and support services.

We look forward to working with you.

Section 2 Programme Information

PROGRAMME CONTEXT

This programme complies with the mandatory requirements detailed in the Education and Training Foundation's qualification framework for the Diploma in Teaching (FE and Skills). This framework enables trainees to reach the standards of occupational competence set out in the Learning and Skills Teacher (LST) Occupational Standards.

Employer representatives from across the FE sector developed the LST occupational standard which are approved by the Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education. The standard specifies the expectations of a competent practitioner in the sector.

The Postgraduate Certificate in Education in Further Education and the Certificate in Education in Further Education are nationally endorsed qualifications that are recognised by further education colleges, adult and community education services, work-based training providers, offender learning contractors and public sector organisations.

Professional practice lies at the heart of the programme and trainees are encouraged to develop as reflective practitioners whilst they explore the theory underpinning their continually developing teaching practice. The programme enables you to acquire the values, commitments, knowledge, understanding and skills that all teachers need. It also offers you opportunities for the development of personal transferable skills (self-management, learning skills, communication, teamwork, problem-solving and data-handling skills). The trainees are also encouraged to demonstrate innovation, creativity and enterprise.

The aims of the Exeter College PGCE and Cert Ed programmes are to:

- develop your knowledge and understanding of how young people and adults learn and develop, and of the factors that can impact on their learning
- develop and extend your knowledge and understanding of curriculum, effective pedagogies and assessment strategies
- support the development of your specialist subject knowledge and pedagogy to enable you to confidently teach your subject
- provide you with opportunities to engage with current research and debates in your field and consider the relationship between theory and practice
- develop your knowledge and understanding of the teacher's roles and responsibilities
- enable you to achieve the standards necessary to qualify as a teacher as identified in the Occupational Standards
- develop your understanding of how to plan your teaching to ensure progression and continuity across the curriculum areas and between phases
- provide advice and support on curriculum content, pedagogy and assessment within a selected specialist subject
- develop the skills of reviewing, monitoring and evaluation, in order to contribute creatively and confidently as a new colleague, and to work successfully across multi-professional teams
- help you to recognize the importance of continuing professional development to supporting critical thinking, reflective practice and informed decision-making
- develop your ability to teach with imagination, enthusiasm and courage, and respond creatively to change

It is important to remember that the Level 7 PGCE at Exeter College is a Master's qualification and therefore differs in its expectations from the Level 5 Cert Ed. Your tutors will offer further specific guidance on how to study and write at Master's level, but one of the things you can do straightaway is to familiarize yourself with what it means to be engaged on a Master's level teacher training programme. Please see the relevant module book lists.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The programme consists of four modules. Over the four modules, you will explore and analyse current ideas related to learning and teaching in further education (FE), also known as the Further Education and Skills (FES) Sector. The programme will offer a balance of practical skills, reflection, reflexivity and related education theories. The modules will be concerned with the processes and theories of learning, teaching and assessment, curriculum and development of wider professional practices. The opportunity to consider all these areas specifically in the light of your own teaching practice, subject specialisms and experience will be central to your professional development. Through a Professional Portfolio the programme gives you the chance to evidence your developing practical skills, knowledge and understanding and also to reflect upon the complex relationships between practice and theory.

Whilst focusing on subject specific knowledge, understanding and skills, the programme will also involve the development of maths, English and digital skills. You will be expected to evidence your personal skills and identify how, as a teacher/tutor, you can support your own learners' needs in these areas, in relation to the level at which they are studying and the demands of their curricula.

Assigned tutors will support your academic work and observe you teaching. Your subject specialist mentor will support your teaching practice development in the workplace/teaching placement, particularly in relation to your subject specialism and pedagogic skills. The active relationship between tutors, mentors and students is intended to be that of colleagues working together to achieve good educational practice, and to ensure that students reach their full potential.

PROGRAMME RATIONALE

The PGCE is a 120 credit teacher training award for graduates in the Further Education and Skills Sector. The Cert Ed is a 120 credit teacher training award for non-graduates who are already in a teaching role in the sector. The programme is subject to OFSTED inspections of Initial Teacher Education. The programme complies with the mandatory requirements detailed in the Education and Training Foundation's qualification framework for the Diploma in Teaching (FE and Skills), underpinned by the LST Occupational Standards. This programme sits within the Framework for Higher Education qualifications in England, Wales and Northern Ireland (QAA, 2024).

Exeter College is a provider of Initial Teacher Education (ITE) for trainee teachers in the Further Education and Skills Sector in the South-West. This programme serves a wide range of audiences with trainee teachers in this sector teaching on programmes from pre-entry level for students with learning difficulties, to higher education level for students on foundation and first degrees. In line with the Occupational Standards and the importance of the link between theory and practice, the practical teaching element of the programme is integrated into all modules.

Each module of the PGCE programme is 30 credits at Level 7 and each module of the Cert Ed programme is 30 credits at Level 5 to comply with the mandatory requirements for qualifications of teachers in the Further Education and Skills Sector.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

An outline programme structure and features, modules, credit and award requirements are as follows:

PGCE Full-Time Programme

September-November	Learning and Teaching in FE (Level 7 - 30 credits)
November - January	Research Project: Theories of Learning and Managing Behaviour (Level 7 - 30 credits)
January - March	Curriculum Studies (Level 7 - 30 credits)
March - June	Professional Practice (Level 7 - 30 credits)

Cert Ed Part-Time Programme

September - January	Learning and Teaching in FE
Year 1	(Level 4 - 30 credits)
January - June	Research Project: Theories of Learning and Managing Behaviour
Year 1	(Level 5 - 30 credits)
September - January	Curriculum Studies
Year 2	(Level 5 - 30 credits)
January - June	Professional Practice
Year 2	(Level 5 - 30 credits)

ETHICS

Many of the study tasks that you will undertake during the course will involve research. Before starting any data collection, you will need to be aware of a number of important ethical issues as outlined in the relevant section below. The university has a clear code of practice in relation to conducting research.

The ethical position of the School of Education, University of Exeter, is based on the principle that in all research, teaching/training and professional activity the interests and rights of others must be respected and protected. The 'others' whose interests and rights need protection include children, adults, other sentient beings, and institutions such as schools or colleges with which we have professional contact. The kinds of ethical issues that arise for the School of Education usually concern the exercise of power in professional relationships, such as those between teacher and student, as well as those arising from privileged access to confidential information about individuals or institutions. Although such relations and privileged access are generally conducted with the best of intentions, without proper safeguards they can result in unintentional abuse. Educational research requires that particular attention is devoted to ethical obligations because it often involves students, who are in vulnerable positions. In the School of Education, the key areas of ethical concern to be monitored, and the guidelines, are as follows:

Lack of Harm, Detriment or Unreasonable Stress

Any research or teaching procedure carried out should not result in any risk of harm, detriment or unreasonable stress to participants. Educational interventions should not result in any educational disadvantage or loss of opportunity. Strong medical guidelines exist where physical risk issues are involved. Where there is any doubt, all action should cease until full consultation and reassurance is given by the appropriate authorities.

Research-Based Studies

If any experiment or intervention or collection of data does not go significantly beyond normal teaching functions, approval at institutional level only is required. Institutional approval has already been given for the tasks and assignments that you will be undertaking during the course of this year. Therefore, in most cases, you will not be required to submit an ethics form.

Activities that come under the heading of 'normal teaching functions' would include gathering data about students' attainment, learning, preferred teaching / learning styles, misconceptions, motivations etc. In other words, gathering the sort of data that you might be expected to gather during your routine engagement with students.

If you are in any doubt about whether your planned research falls under the umbrella of 'normal teaching functions', please discuss this with your Tutor. Occasionally (for instance, if you plan to conduct individual interviews with students), such a consultation might conclude that an ethics form would be appropriate, in which case your Tutor would support you in completing one.

Informed Consent

An important ethical consideration in undertaking research is that all participants should understand the significance of their role (i.e. be informed) and should consent to their involvement. Informed consent assumes that consent is freely given with a proper understanding of the nature and consequences of what is proposed, and that undue influence is not used to obtain consent. It must be made clear to participants that at any moment they are free to withdraw from the research if they wish. In a classroom setting, it may be that the whole class participates in an 'intervention', for example, as that is part of your planned lesson, but students have a right not to take part in an interview or questionnaire in relation to that activity. Particular care is necessary when the participant has a special relationship to the investigator as in the case of a student to his/her teacher.

Informed Consent Procedures

If applicable to your study, written consent should be gained by providing participants with a straightforward statement for them to sign, covering the aims of the research, and the potential consequences for participants. The language used in such statements must be understandable to the participants. For non-communicative participants, the efforts to gain consent should be specified in a written description of the procedure for explaining to participants what is happening. A responsible person should sign this statement (and indicate his/her relationship with the participant) to indicate that this work has been done. In such cases the onus is on the researcher to satisfy the tutors, by the provision of appropriate evidence, that the information/consent requirements have been satisfied. In some cases, this may require a clear justification for the involvement of the most vulnerable people (for example people with disabilities or in stressed situations) and clarification that the information can be gained in no other way.

Confidentiality and Non-Identifiability

Persons and institutions that participate in research have the right to anonymity and nonidentifiability unless they are individual adults who have explicitly, and in writing, consented to be identified. Otherwise, all research data and results, in all media, are confidential and must not be disclosed to unauthorised third parties. Research reports, dissertations, theses and publications must not permit the identification of any individuals or institutions.

Please make sure that you avoid using the names of individuals or groups in ALL your assignments. Pseudonyms may be used if necessary.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Please contact Marianne Readman, Higher Education Manager, for further information.

ACCREDITATION OF PRIOR LEARNING

Exeter College will consider claims for Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL). Please contact the Teacher Education Lead/Programme Manager for further information.

PROFESSIONAL FORMATION/ACCREDITATION

Students who successfully complete this programme can apply for Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills (QTLS) status through the Education and Training Foundation – please click here. PGCE/Cert Ed in FE awards do not automatically confer QTLS; there is a period of professional formation required, and students will be informed about this during their studies. Students will also be informed of any further requirements for QTLS including Maths and English at Level 2 and specialist diplomas for those teaching functional skills.

Section 3 Teaching, Learning and Assessment

PROFESSIONAL PORTFOLIO

It is important to bear in mind, from the outset of your study, that you are working towards a qualification that will provide pre-service trainees (PGCE)with a foundation for a potential career and for in-service trainees (Cert Ed), the means of demonstrating development to progress your career in the future.

The Professional Portfolio is central to the programme and how you explicitly demonstrate your professional and personal developmental journey as a reflective practitioner. It will become a portfolio of your development which will demonstrate to future employers and reviewers how you have improved your practice and developed your employability during the programme. It may also be used in an Ofsted Inspection if you are selected to meet an Inspector during the programme. You will be required to provide evidence of teaching and reflection depending on how far you have reached in the programme.

Engagement in this process will allow you to demonstrate your ability to evaluate and improve your approaches to planning and enabling teaching, learning and assessment. You will identify specific targets for improvement and actions to be taken, through reflection on your teaching and the feedback provided by your subject specialist mentor and tutors. Reflecting on knowledge, understanding and practice in relation to the Occupational Standards helps to promote a holistic approach to your professional and personal development. A fundamental aspect of this process is the collaborative relationship between you, your mentor and your tutor.

The Professional Portfolio process will enable you to:

- become a more effective, independent and confident self-directed learner;
- understand how you are learning and relate your learning to a wider context;
- improve your general skills for study and career management;
- articulate your personal goals and evaluate progress towards your achievement;
- encourage a positive attitude to learning throughout life
- provide professional development action plans to take forward into your first job as a teacher

You will need a high level of passion and drive for success if you wish to realise your ambitions in a highly competitive job market. Opportunities for support can also be made available on request.

TEACHING PRACTICE

Pre-service PGCE trainees will have placements arranged within the college. In-service Cert Ed trainees will either work within the college or have their own paid teaching practice.

During the programme you should evidence a breadth of teaching practice for a minimum of 150 hours. "Teaching practice" refers to the teaching and learning sessions that are planned for specific learners and that take place in a learning environment. These sessions will include aspects of planning, delivery and assessment, including adapting learning/differentiation, and other factors that contribute to successful teaching and learning. Contact hours where teachers are supervising students for other purposes cannot be included as part of the required teaching practice hours. Teaching practice group size may vary, but the majority of the teaching practice must be to groups of 10 or more learners. It would not be possible to acquire, develop and demonstrate the full range of teaching skills through individual or small group teaching. Teachers need to be able to manage large groups of learners and to deploy a variety of teaching techniques and facilitate a wide spectrum of learning activities.

You will complete a log of hours (see module checklists) which will provide a record of your engagement in your developing professional practice and show a breadth of practice in relation to different groups, levels or settings. You will be observed 10 times during the course and these observations will provide developmental feedback to enable you to identify what you are doing well and to highlight what improvements could be made in future delivery. For each observation, you must meet the standards expected for that point in the course. If you do not achieve the expected standards, then we will follow the Cause for Concern procedure (University of Exeter Teaching Quality Assurance Manual). In the unlikely case that the issues are not addressed at this stage, then the Unsatisfactory Student Progress and Engagement procedure will be used.

FORMATIVE AND SUMMATIVE ASSESSMENT

The assessment of your intellectual skills (knowledge and understanding) and your professional practice is through a combination of formative and summative assessments. Formative assessments may be in the form of professional discussions, seminars, individual tutorials, through micro-teaches or presentations to inform your learning. Summative coursework assignments include essays, a research proposal and preparing presentation materials, as well as teaching observations and logs of professional practice. These assignments will count towards your progression through the programme and your final award. Details of these will be published in the module handbooks and you must comply with the directions given by your tutors for each module and particularly note the hand-in deadlines and what must be submitted.

PLAGIARISM (including use of Generative Artificial Intelligence)

You could face a possible charge of plagiarism (i.e. substantial use of another's work without acknowledgement) if you do not acknowledge sources meticulously in the preparation of reports, assignments and projects. Direct (verbatim quotation) and indirect references to other people's work must be acknowledged. You are expected to give a complete reference list within a bibliography so that any reader can obtain the works for reference purposes. Quoting passages verbatim from the work of others and presenting them for assessment as if they are your own ideas would constitute a clear case of plagiarism for which your work may be failed and you may be asked to leave the programme-see academic misconduct policy. The use of essay bank material for assessment purposes is not permitted and, if discovered, will be severely punished. To avoid the risk of plagiarising, you will need to use the Harvard referencing system accurately and consistently.

University - plagiarism definition

University guidance for students - Using AI tools in academic work

REFERENCING CONVENTIONS

The standard referencing system for the provision is the Harvard System and we recommend you use the Word referencing tool. The Harvard system used is based on the book Pears, R. and Shields, G. (2013) Cite them right: the essential referencing guide. Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan (and subsequent versions).

SUBMISSION OF WORK

All work will be submitted as electronic copies to Teams by the deadline and an electronic copy of the extended essay onto Turnitin. Late submissions will not be accepted.

RETURN OF ASSESSED WORK

All work will normally be returned to you within 21 days of the hand-in date (excluding holidays). Supportive feedback will be provided, connected to the assessment criteria. Marks will be provisional until the Award and Progression Committee (APAC) at the end of the course. Following the APAC you will receive a transcript of your results.

REQUESTS FOR AN EXTENSION

Extensions may be granted in exceptional circumstances and only where the extension has been requested in advance of the assignment deadline and supporting evidence provided. The guidance document, detailing the circumstances in which an extension can be requested, and the process for requesting an extension is available from your tutor.

All requests for extensions should be submitted to heoffice@exe-coll.ac.uk with evidence. The Head of HE and Programme Manager will consult with your tutor where necessary before making a decision. If the extension is agreed, your mark will not be capped at 50%.

- Any assignment handed in up to 2 weeks late without an agreed extension will be capped at 50%.
- Any assignment handed in more than two weeks late without an agreed extension will not be marked and will be given 0%. This will be classed as a non-submission and no further opportunity to submit will be given. In consequence, achievement of the PGCE academic award will not be possible.
- Investigation into the reasons for non-submission may result in Unsatisfactory Student Progress and Engagement or Fitness to Practice procedures being implemented.
- https://as.exeter.ac.uk/academic-policy-standards/tqa-manual/aph/mitigation/

FAILED ASSIGNMENTS

If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a satisfactory standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. The revised mark will be capped at 50%.

You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Programme Level Assessment, Progression and Awarding Committee (APAC) in June). Alternatively, you may opt for your mark to go to the Programme Level APAC as a fail. This will then be referred to the University APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of PGCE will be delayed until the next award meeting following any successful resubmission (normally held in December).

If after submitting a revised assignment, you have still failed to gain an overall pass mark for the module, you will have been deemed to have failed the PGCE with no further opportunity for resubmission.

- All assignments are marked anonymously except where not possible e.g. in the case of presentations
- A sample of assignments and all fail and borderline assignments are double marked
- To ensure fairness and moderation of standards, if the assignment marking sample is only double marked within the subject team, a small sample is also moderated by staff from another subject
- External Examiners moderate standards of marking and assessment.

PUBLICATION OF FINAL RESULTS

At the end of your programme, you may be required to submit all completed work for review by the External Examiner. The APAC will decide whether you have completed the programme successfully and you will be notified of your success within a short period of time. You will then be invited to the Graduation Ceremony.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE PROGRAMME

If you feel unable to continue your PGCE or Cert Ed, you are strongly recommended to discuss this with your Tutor and your Mentor before making a decision. We can help you make appropriate decisions, and if necessary, direct you to further careers guidance. Once you have informed the college of your decision and left your placement you cannot change your mind. You should also talk to the Exeter College Adult Advice or HE team or the University's Guild Advice Unit (https://www.exeterguild.org/advice/) to clarify any financial implications. There are cut off dates near the beginning of each term whereby if you withdraw after that date, you will be liable for that term's fees; please contact the Guild Advice Unit on 01392 723520 or advice@exeterguild.com or see http://www.exeter.ac.uk/staff/policies/calendar/part2/finance/. They can also confirm whether you will need to pay back any bursary payments.

WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURE

You will need to complete an online Withdrawal Form (details available from your Tutor or Info at St Luke's). We are required to complete your last date of attendance on the Withdrawal Form and this date is used by Student Fees, Student Records, Student Finance England etc. when calculating any tuition fee refunds.

- Your last date of attendance is defined as the last date you were physically in attendance. It is not the date you sign the withdrawal form. The only exception is if you have been signed off by your doctor for a period of time leading up to your withdrawal, in which case the date you indicate your intention to withdraw to your tutor will be used instead.
- It is essential to complete the Withdrawal paperwork quickly so that the financial implications can be dealt with appropriately.
- Once the withdrawal form has been completed it is not possible to recommence the course.

REQUESTING AN INTERRUPTION FROM THE PROGRAMME

Occasionally trainees have to interrupt their studies for very good reasons such as serious medical or extreme personal circumstances. Interruption is not an automatic entitlement and normally not allowed if you are failing to make normal and satisfactory progress or because you are experiencing stress or anxiety as a consequence of your training. If you feel that stress is hampering your progress on the course, please discuss this with your Personal Tutor and seek expert help from the University Medical Centre or your own doctor.

You should make sure you understand any financial implications of your request to interrupt by discussing this with the Guild Advice Unit https://www.exeterguild.org/advice/ on 01392 723520 or advice@exeterguild.com

INTERRUPTION PERMISSION

- First you will need to discuss your options with your tutor.
- You will then need to submit an 'Interruption Request form' to the Programme Manager for consideration
- Your last date of attendance on the programme is usually the date your request for an interruption is formally approved by the Programme Manager. The only exception to this is if there has been a lengthy delay in submitting the Interruption Request form, in which case, an earlier date may be decided upon.
- If you are requesting an interruption, you should continue to attend your placement until the outcome of your request has been communicated to you. The only exception to this is if you have been signed off by your doctor.
- It is essential to complete Interruption paperwork quickly so that the financial implications can be dealt with appropriately.
- Usually, an interruption will only be permitted if, at the point of requesting an interruption, you are in good standing with the University and are making normal and satisfactory progress within the programme.

RETURNING TO THE COURSE AFTER INTERRUPTION

If you are granted an interruption the Assessment, Progression and Awarding Committee (at the end of the term in which you interrupt) confirms the conditions under which you can return. These will be decided jointly between Exeter College and the University and communicated to you. You must return to the course within two years of your interruption.

- Important a penalty fee of £300 may be incurred if you confirm your return and subsequently decline a placement that has been arranged for you
- You will be required to undergo another fitness to teach assessment on your return and apply for another Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Disclosure Certificate.

EXTERNAL EXAMINER ARRANGEMENTS

External Examiners are essential to the academic well-being of the University. Their involvement ensures that:

- 1. Standards are appropriate by reference to published national subject benchmarks, the National Qualifications Framework and the University's programme and module specifications.
- 2. The assessment process measures student achievement against the intended learning outcomes
- 3. The University's awards are comparable in standard to awards conferred by other UK HE institutions
- 4. The assessment process is operated fairly and equitably and in accordance with Exeter College and University Regulations.
- 5. There will be one External Examiner involved in your programme

OFSTED INSPECTION

In the event of an Ofsted Inspection, you may be selected for observation by an Inspector. If so, as well as the usual documentation required for your observer, you should also provide all assessed assignments to include coursework, Professional Portfolio and all feedback on observations carried out up until the date of the Inspection. If inspected, the first visit can take place at any point in your programme. There will then be a subsequent visit when they may visit the same or different students to those visited in the summer term, in their first term of employment. Again, the Inspector may wish to see your coursework, Professional Portfolio and all feedback on observations carried out as a trainee teacher, plus any observations you have had in your first term of employment. It is therefore important that you keep these documents to hand, at least during the first term of employment, although you may wish to keep your Professional Portfolio for future teaching interviews.

STUDENT FEEDBACK

There are several routes through which the student voice can be heard, including end of module feedback forms, questionnaires and the HE survey. These kinds of opportunities give you the chance to tell us what you feel about your experience of teaching and learning at Exeter College and to allow us to identify those issues that are perceived by you as affecting your education, either positively or negatively. Students should not contact External Examiners directly.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVES

Each programme has one or more student representatives, elected for a year, who are expected to participate in a range of activities – from attending programme meetings to representing their cohort's views at the Department and Faculty Learner Voice forums. Further information is available from the Exeter College Adult Student Engagement Officer.

ENGAGEMENT WITH STUDY

You are expected to attend ALL timetabled sessions for each module, unless otherwise directed by your Tutor – your participation is essential. There is a very close correlation between those students who are poor attendees and those who fail to progress at the end of the year. It's recognised that those who attend regularly give themselves a much higher chance of success. If you are having difficulties or feeling uncertain, please contact your Tutor or other member of staff to talk things through. Exeter College and the University offer various support services to help you adjust to university life and academic work.

We expect you to approach your studies in a professional manner and if you know you are going to be absent from a timetabled session, you should inform your Tutor by email and negotiate how you are going to catch up. As a minimum, if you are ill or otherwise unable to attend, you should send apologies to your tutor and ensure that you have caught up with the work. If your assessment is affected by circumstances beyond your control, you may be able to claim for extenuating circumstances – see details elsewhere in this handbook.

In addition, procedures are in place to monitor attendance throughout the year and if you fail to submit coursework without notice or regularly fail to attend sessions, a letter will be sent to both your home and term-time addresses requesting details of absence. If you do not respond within a specified time, further action will be taken which may ultimately result in you being assumed to have withdrawn. It is expected that you achieve a minimum of 80% attendance.

If you are considering leaving: Please contact your tutor in the first instance. You can also contact the Adult Advice team at the College or the Career Zone at the University who have put specific provision in place for you to be seen quickly by an experienced careers consultant to discuss your options.

Section 4 Trainee Services, Support and Welfare

As well as the facilities on the Exeter College site, trainees on PGCE and Cert Ed programmes are registered students of the University of Exeter and entitled to use resources and facilities for students across the three Campuses. Some of these facilities are described here but you will find more details on our website www.exeter.ac.uk or through contacting SID. You will need your student log-in details to make online enquiries.

To access most of the services below, your initial contact should be through the Student Information Desk (SID) www.exeter.ac.uk/students/services/sid/ or phone 0300 555 0444. There is a Student Information Desk within Info at St Luke's on the ground floor of South Cloisters at St Luke's Campus and in the Forum at Streatham Campus. SID services are available Monday-Friday from 0800 to 2200 and Saturday-

Sunday 1000-1500 during term time and Monday-Friday 0830 to 1800 during vacation periods.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

Exeter College and the University of Exeter are committed to a policy of equality of opportunity and aim to provide a working and learning environment which is free from unfair discrimination and will enable staff and students to fulfil their personal potential. The School of Education Equal Opportunities' statement can also be found at https://education.exeter.ac.uk/about/edi/

DIGNITY AND RESPECT

The University of Exeter's Dignity and Respect Policy statement can be found at https://www.exeter.ac.uk/departments/inclusion/policiesanddata/policies/dandrpolicy/

Dignity and Respect Advisors are a network of members of staff from across the University who have volunteered and are trained to undertake the role. They provide a confidential and informal service for anyone involved in cases of harassment or bullying. They can listen, talk through available options and signpost to other sources of support and advice. Contact through SID.

RACE EQUALTY

Race Equality Resource Officer, Ruth Flanagan 01392 724871, R.Flanagan@exeter.ac.uk

The RERO is available to work closely with students from ethnic minorities. She is not part of the student assessment process and offers:

- a safe, confidential and non-judgmental place to discuss issues and concerns
- practical support to manage issues such as housing and finance
- referral to appropriate agencies for specialist advice, information and support.

WELLBEING

The University Wellbeing Services team is made up of counsellors and mental health practitioners who are all highly skilled and experienced. The service is confidential. https://www.exeter.ac.uk/students/wellbeing/

All students must book into a telephone referral appointment with a clinical practitioner before accessing any of the services or therapies available within Wellbeing. To book an appointment, please see the options available at the link above which include using SID online or you can also call the Wellbeing Centre on 01392 724381.

Wellbeing provide a 'walk in' service at St Luke's available by asking in Info at St Luke's or by using the email address above.

DISABILITY SUPPORT (SPECIFIC LEARNING DIFFICULTIES, PHYSICAL DISABILITIES/HEALTH CONDITIONS) AND WELLBEING SERVICES

In the first instance, contact your Tutor to be signposted to support available within Exeter College and WRAAP service.

If you feel that you might benefit from support from the University's AccessAbility team or Wellbeing Services during your studies, you can contact them at any time during the year.

Once registered with AccessAbility/Wellbeing Services, they will, where appropriate, draw up an Individual Learning Plan (ILP) with you. This is an important document as it will inform the Team of any particular adjustments we need to make for you (for example, if you have dyslexia and want this to be taken into consideration when your assignments are marked or if you have a physical disability and require assistive equipment or software). It can also be used as supporting evidence for extension requests.

What is an Individual Learning Plan ILP?

An Individual Learning Plan (ILP) is a document that informs Colleges within the University that a student has declared a disability and sets out the reasonable adjustments that need to be considered. For a student to have an ILP in place, the student will have a health issue or disability which fits the criteria to be classified as a disability under the Equality Act 2010. The legislation affects all HEIs in the UK and all are expected to provide reasonable adjustments in response to assessed needs.

Why do students have ILPs?

Reasonable adjustments are put in place to remove barriers that may prevent students from participating at University, and to minimize the impact that their health condition or disability may have on their ability to study.

How does a student get an ILP?

Students make contact with Wellbeing Services (AccessAbility/Mental Health Pathway) and following an in-depth assessment an ILP is set up. This requires the student to provide independent evidence of their health condition.

When are ILPs set up or updated?

ILPs can be set up or updated at any point throughout the academic year in agreement with the student and you will receive an automatic notification.

Student responsibilities

It is your responsibility to contact Wellbeing Services (AccessAbility and Mental Health Pathway) if you have any queries about the details contained within your ILP, if you would like it reviewed or if your situation changes at any time.

Please contact the Info at St Luke's Team if you have any queries about the implementation of your reasonable adjustments.

Please note: requests for extensions due to ongoing disability/specific learning difficulty/mental health difficulties are unlikely to be granted if an ILP is not in place. Also, due to the anonymous marking policy used by the University, tutors marking summative assignments from dyslexic trainees will not be able to apply dyslexia marking guidelines to an assignment if an ILP is not in place. It is therefore important to get an ILP set up as early in the year as possible if you want your disability/specific learning difficulty/mental health difficulties to be taken into consideration during the taught elements of the PGCE programme.

For further information on the services provided by AccessAbility and Wellbeing Services please go to https://www.exeter.ac.uk/students/wellbeing/support/prospectivestudents/ and http://www.exeter.ac.uk/wellbeing/ or email Accessability@exeter.ac.uk

CAUSE FOR CONCERN

If your progress towards meeting the standards or your engagement with any aspect of the course is not as expected, then either or both of the following processes might be used to support you.

Trainee Support Plan (TSP)

Some trainees benefit from some targeted support particularly if they have been absent for several days or have a recurring target on their Development Meeting Record. The Trainee Support Plan (TSP) is a short-term action plan, lasting for a maximum of two weeks, which describes what needs to be done and what additional support can be put in place to help you to achieve this. The additional support normally will be resource neutral and might include things such as opportunities to observe additional demonstrations, direction towards further reading, teaching from existing session plans, joint session planning, team teaching etc. The Trainee Support Plan is drawn up by your tutors and in discussion with you.

At the end of the specified time frame your tutor evaluated the targets against the evidence and if they have been met the TSP is concluded. If they have not been met, then your progress will be a cause for concern and the CCL process should be initiated.

- A TSP will not normally be used for issues of professionalism as these are immediate cause for concern and will be addressed through that process.
- A TSP cannot be issued less than two weeks before the Summer Half Term break. Any such issues occurring then will indicate a concern about achieving professional standards and so a CCL letter will be issued.

A CCL can be issued without a preceding TSP and for any reason, including absence. It should also contain details of the support that will be offered to assist the trainee in addressing the issues raised

Cause for Concern Letter (CCL)

It is essential that you demonstrate evidence of successful teachings against the professional standards. A CCL may be issued if you are failing to make expected progress at any stage during your training. The CCL identifies concerns about your progress under the following four headings and sets a supportive and constructive action plan with targets that are related to the standards, the headings are:

- Absence of more than 10 days from the programme
- Failure to meet deadlines for directed tasks or assignments
- Insufficient progress towards meeting the Professional Standards
- Professional engagement with the course

The CCL is usually issued jointly by your Tutor and Centre Manager.

You must sign one copy of the CCL and return one copy to your tutor, who will ensure this is sent to the Partnership Office and you should retain one copy.

Unsatisfactory Student Progress and Engagement

Trainees who fail to address the issues in the CCL and its action plan or fail to maintain their progress with those issues will be issued with a further CCL as described above. In addition, the Programme Director will consider whether the issues fall under 'Unsatisfactory Student Progress and Engagement' and may initiate the procedure, which might ultimately lead to the trainee beina withdrawn from the programme. Details of this can be found at https://as.exeter.ac.uk/academic-policy-standards/tqa-manual/lts/unsatisfactoryprogress and will be given to any such trainee if the need arises.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT AND GUIDANCE

Personal tutors are designated as a sustained and first point of reference for individual students on personal, domestic or academic matters. Every student is allocated a Mentor who should normally be a member of academic staff within the subject discipline of the student. Every student should attend a minimum of two meetings per year. Students have a responsibility to contact their personal tutor when they need help or guidance and should be proactive in attending meetings and raising personal issues.

Discussions with your personal tutor are of a confidential nature, unless particular issues arise that need to be recorded or referred for the welfare of the student or University. For further information on tutoring, confidentiality and data protection, please contact Marianne Readman, HE Manager at Exeter College.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Delivery of all elements of knowledge and understanding for teaching and learning is through a combination of lectures, seminars, tutorials and workshop-based activity. You are expected to spend approximately 300 hours per term studying, in total. Some of this time will be spent in planned sessions such as lecture, seminar, practical, tutorial or workshop but the rest of it is for independent study. For each module you will have set contact time each week, outlined in module timetables, which you must attend.

Please note that throughout the course of the programme you are expected to undertake independent reading and practical work to consolidate and broaden your understanding of the subject that you are studying.

DESCRIPTION – summary of the module content (100 words)

This Level 5 module links closely with three co-requisite level 5 modules: Research Project, Curriculum Studies and Professional Studies. This module is the first taught module of the course in the Autumn term, concluding in term 2. The module addresses processes, principles and theories of planning, preparing and enabling learning. It investigates key aspects of the roles and responsibilities of teachers, trainers and tutors in the Further Education and Skills Sector.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education and Skills).

MODULE AIMS – intentions of the module

To enable you to develop and apply the practical skills, complex knowledge and understanding which underpin professional educational practice in the Further Education and Skills Sector, whilst critically reflecting on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

Module Specific Skills and Knowledge:

1	analyse the role of a teacher in the Further Education and Skills Sector;
2	analyse approaches to learning and teaching in FE
3	Explore reasonable adaptations for a range of needs
Disc	ipline Specific Skills and Knowledge:
4	identify learners' different needs and interpret these learning needs in order to successfully plan, teach, assess and evaluate lessons and schemes of work;
5	engage in debate about current educational issues drawing on a wide range of evidence from theory, research and practice;
6	identify the relevance of educational theory to practice;
7	analyse relevant educational literature and use research data in support of an argument;
8	evaluate your personal professional learning and teaching against the Occupational Standards
9	demonstrate, with support, the ability to plan your future professional development needs;
Pers	sonal and Key Transferable/ Employment Skills and Knowledge:
10	demonstrate continued development, with support, through breadth of teaching practice;
11	evaluate access and progression in teaching practice;
12	manage your own learning and development, with support;
13	learn effectively and be aware of your own learning strategies, with some guidance;
14	work in different kinds of teams (formal, informal, project based, etc.);
15	consider the main features of a given problem and develop strategies for its resolution;
16	express ideas and opinions to a variety of audiences for a variety of purposes.

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to current thinking in Learning and Teaching in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Principles, approaches, and practice of learning, teaching and assessment in your own specialist area.
- Identifying and understanding support available to effectively meet the potential needs of learners.
- The implications of equality, diversity and inclusion issues, including bilingualism, in learning, teaching and assessment.
- Safeguarding, sustainability, digital and ed-tech tools, and embedding maths and English.
- Key aspects of relevant codes of practice and current legislative requirements, including legislation relating to disability, health, safety and welfare.
- The responsibilities, occupational standards and boundaries of own role as a teacher.

RE-ASSESSMENT NOTES

Written assignment: If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a pass standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Assessment Progression and Awards Committee (APAC) in July). The resubmission would normally be made 4 weeks after receiving feedback on the first submission. Alternatively, you may opt to go to the APAC with the fail mark. You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%.

DESCRIPTION – summary of the module content (100 words)

This level 5 module links closely with three co-requisite level 5 modules: Learning and Teaching in Further Education, Curriculum Studies and Professional Studies. This module critically evaluates theories, policies and principles for enabling inclusive learning and managing behaviour through reflexive practice and study. Communication, resources, teaching and learning strategies and organisation policies are critically analysed.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education).

MODULE AIMS – intentions of the module

To develop a knowledge and understanding of the relationship between the theories and principles for enabling learning and your own practice; to enable theories and practice of behaviour management to be explored and analysed; to reflect critically on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

The module introduces you to theories of learning and behaviour management strategies in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Application of theories and principles of learning and communication to inclusive learning and teaching.
- Evaluation and improvement of the selection and use of teaching and learning strategies with reference to theories and principles of communication and inclusive learning.
- Application of up to date knowledge of own specialist area to enable and support inclusive learning, following organisational, statutory and other regulatory requirements.
- Types of behaviours in a learning environment and the factors influencing them.
- Theories of behaviour management and positive interventions and preventative strategies.
- Organisational policies concerning behaviour.
- Developing a research proposal and consideration of ethical protocols.
- Research approaches, for example, developing an argument, carrying out a literature review, data collection and analysis, developing practice through a project, reflective practice, reviewing a body of knowledge, creative problem solving and analysis of research project.

You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%. DESCRIPTION – summary of the module content (100 words)

This level 7 module links closely with three co-requisite level 5 modules: Learning and Teaching in Further Education, Research Project and Professional Studies. The module explores curriculum theories, principles and ideologies and social, economic, political and cultural differences affecting inclusive and sustainable curriculum design. It also enables reflexive evaluation of individual subject specialisms in relation to curriculum design.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education and Skills).

MODULE AIMS - intentions of the module

To develop an understanding of the history and concepts of curriculum; to analyse theories and approaches to inclusive curriculum practice and design that may differ within an educational/training context; to reflect on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

Module Specific Skills and Knowledge:

die Opeenie Okins and Knowledge.
demonstrate knowledge and understanding of curriculum theories and principles within your own subject specialist area;
evaluate the development of curricula within own subject specialist area evaluate the impact of curriculum thinking on pedagogic content knowledge ipline Specific Skills and Knowledge:
identify learners' different and complex needs and interpret these learning needs in order to successfully plan, teach, assess and evaluate lessons and schemes of work;
engage in debate about current educational issues drawing on a wide range of evidence from theory, research and practice;
identify the relevance of educational theory to practice;
analyse relevant educational literature and use research data in support of an argument;
evaluate your personal professional learning and teaching against the Occupational Standards demonstrate, with support, the ability to plan your future professional development needs;
sonal and Key Transferable/ Employment Skills and Knowledge:
demonstrate continued development through breadth of teaching practice;
evaluate access and progression in teaching practice;
manage your own learning and development, with some guidance;
learn effectively and be aware of your own learning strategies, with some guidance;
work in different kinds of teams (formal, informal, project based, etc.);
consider the main features of a given problem and develop strategies for its resolution;
express ideas and opinions to a variety of audiences for a variety of purposes

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to current curriculum thinking in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education and Skills Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Application of curriculum theories, principles, ideologies and models to curriculum development.
- Inclusive curriculum design and implementation for specialist subjects and different cohorts of learners.
- Analysing different curriculum contexts in the Further Education and Skills sector.
- Building equality of opportunity and respect for diversity into curriculum design.
- The impact of social, economic and cultural differences on teaching, learning and achievement.
- The impact of educational use of technology, including generative AI, on curriculum design and teaching.
- Proposing, justifying and evaluating changes to improve the curriculum recognising the roles of external bodies and stakeholders.

RE-ASSESSMENT NOTES

Written assignment: If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a pass standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Assessment Progression and Awards Committee (APAC) in July). The resubmission would normally be made 4 weeks after receiving feedback on the first submission. Alternatively, you may opt to go to the APAC with the fail mark. You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%.

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to current thinking in Professional Studies in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Teaching roles, responsibilities, contexts and breadth of practice in the Further Education and Skills sector.
- Concepts of professionalism, core professional values and dual professionalism for teachers in this sector.
- Theories, principles and models of reflective practice and continuing personal and professional development and how these support own development as an autonomous learner.
- Identifying CPD needs, including educational technology, opportunities for development and evaluating the impact on own practice.
- Implications and impact of government policies on teaching and learning in this sector.
- Impact of the educational use of technology

Written assignment: If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a pass standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Assessment Progression and Awards Committee (APAC) in July). The resubmission would normally be made 4 weeks after receiving feedback on the first submission. Alternatively, you may opt to go to the APAC with the fail mark. You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%.

Studies. This module in the first taught module of the course in the Autumn term, concluding in term 2. The module addresses processes, principles and theories of planning, preparing and enabling learning. It investigates key aspects of the roles and responsibilities of teachers, trainers and tutors in the Further Education and Skills Sector.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education and Skills).

MODULE AIMS – intentions of the module

To enable you to develop and apply the practical skills, complex knowledge and understanding which underpin professional educational practice in the Further Education and Skills Sector, whilst critically reflecting on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

Module Specific Skills and Knowledge:

1	analyse the role of a teacher in the Further Education and Skills Sector;
2	analyse approaches to learning and teaching in FE
3	Explore reasonable adaptations for a range of needs
Disc	cipline Specific Skills and Knowledge:
4	identify learners' different needs and interpret these learning needs in order to successfully plan, teach, assess and evaluate lessons and schemes of work;
5	engage in debate about current educational issues drawing on a wide range of evidence from theory, research and practice;
6	identify the relevance of educational theory to practice;
7	analyse relevant educational literature and use research data in support of an argument;
8	evaluate your personal professional learning and teaching against the Occupational Standards
9	demonstrate, with support, the ability to plan your future professional development needs;
Pers	sonal and Key Transferable/ Employment Skills and Knowledge:
10	demonstrate continued development, with support, through breadth of teaching practice;
11	evaluate access and progression in teaching practice;
12	manage your own learning and development, with support;
13	learn effectively and be aware of your own learning strategies, with some guidance;
14	work in different kinds of teams (formal, informal, project based, etc.);
15	consider the main features of a given problem and develop strategies for its resolution;
16	express ideas and opinions to a variety of audiences for a variety of purposes.

The module introduces you to current thinking in Learning and Teaching in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Principles, approaches, and practice of learning, teaching and assessment in your own specialist area.
- Identifying and understanding support available to effectively meet the potential needs of learners.
- The implications of equality, diversity and inclusion issues, including bilingualism, in learning, teaching and assessment.
- Safeguarding, sustainability, digital and ed-tech tools, and embedding maths and English.
- Key aspects of relevant codes of practice and current legislative requirements, including legislation relating to disability, health, safety and welfare.
- The responsibilities, occupational standards and boundaries of own role as a teacher.

DESCRIPTION – summary of the module content (100 words)

This level 5 module links closely with three co-requisite level 5 modules: Learning and Teaching in Further Education, Curriculum Studies and Professional Studies. This module critically evaluates theories, policies and principles for enabling inclusive learning and managing behaviour through reflexive practice and study. Communication, resources, teaching and learning strategies and organisation policies are critically analysed.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education).

MODULE AIMS – intentions of the module

To develop a knowledge and understanding of the relationship between the theories and principles for enabling learning and your own practice; to enable theories and practice of behaviour management to be explored and analysed; to reflect critically on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

Module Specific Skills and Knowledge:

IVIOU	luie Specific Skills and Knowledge.
1	demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of theories and principles of learning;
2	demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of the theories and strategies of managing behaviour in learning situations;
3	demonstrate the ability to plan, conduct and evaluate a research project in the form of a case study with a focus on behaviour management
Disc	ipline Specific Skills and Knowledge:
4	identify learners' needs and interpret these learning needs in order to successfully plan, teach, assess and evaluate lessons and schemes of work;
5	engage in debate about current educational issues drawing on a wide range of evidence from theory, research and practice;
6	identify the relevance of educational theory to practice;
7	analyse relevant educational literature and use research data in support of an argument;
8	evaluate your personal professional learning and teaching against the Occupational Standards

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to theories of learning and behaviour management strategies in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Application of theories and principles of learning and communication to inclusive learning and teaching.
- Evaluation and improvement of the selection and use of teaching and learning strategies with reference to theories and principles of communication and inclusive learning.
- Application of up to date knowledge of own specialist area to enable and support inclusive learning, following organisational, statutory and other regulatory requirements.
- Types of behaviours in a learning environment and the factors influencing them.
- Theories of behaviour management and positive interventions and preventative strategies.
- Organisational policies concerning behaviour.
- Developing a research proposal and consideration of ethical protocols.
- Research approaches, for example, developing an argument, carrying out a literature review, data collection and analysis, developing practice through a project, reflective practice, reviewing a body of knowledge, creative problem solving and analysis of research project.

RE-ASSESSMENT NOTES

Written assignment: If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a pass standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Assessment Progression and Awards Committee (APAC) in July). The resubmission would normally be made 4 weeks after receiving feedback on the first submission. Alternatively, you may opt to go to the APAC with the fail mark. You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%.

DESCRIPTION – summary of the module content (100 words)

This level 7 module links closely with three co-requisite level 5 modules: Learning and Teaching in Further Education, Research Project and Professional Studies. The module explores curriculum theories, principles and ideologies and social, economic, political and cultural differences affecting inclusive and sustainable curriculum design. It also enables reflexive evaluation of individual subject specialisms in relation to curriculum design.

Throughout your training you will compile a Portfolio that contains evidence of achieving the Occupational Standards for teachers and trainers required by the Education and Training Foundation for recommendation for the Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills (QTLS). Successful completion of all four modules leads to the award of Certificate in Education (Further Education and Skills).

MODULE AIMS - intentions of the module

To develop an understanding of the history and concepts of curriculum; to analyse theories and approaches to inclusive curriculum practice and design that may differ within an educational/training context; to reflect on your own teaching and learning.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (ILOs) (see assessment section below for how ILOs will be assessed)

On successful completion of this module you should be able to:

Module Specific Skills and Knowledge:

mou	die Opecific Okilis and Knowledge.
1	demonstrate knowledge and understanding of curriculum theories and principles within your own subject specialist area;
2	evaluate the development of curricula within own subject specialist area
3	evaluate the impact of curriculum thinking on pedagogic content knowledge
Disc	ipline Specific Skills and Knowledge:
4	identify learners' different and complex needs and interpret these learning needs in order to successfully plan, teach, assess and evaluate lessons and schemes of work;
5	engage in debate about current educational issues drawing on a wide range of evidence from theory, research and practice;
6	identify the relevance of educational theory to practice;
7	analyse relevant educational literature and use research data in support of an argument;
8	evaluate your personal professional learning and teaching against the Occupational Standards
9	demonstrate, with support, the ability to plan your future professional development needs;
Pers	sonal and Key Transferable/ Employment Skills and Knowledge:
10	demonstrate continued development through breadth of teaching practice;
11	evaluate access and progression in teaching practice;
12	manage your own learning and development, with some guidance;
13	learn effectively and be aware of your own learning strategies, with some guidance;
14	work in different kinds of teams (formal, informal, project based, etc.);
15	consider the main features of a given problem and develop strategies for its resolution;
16	express ideas and opinions to a variety of audiences for a variety of purposes

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to current curriculum thinking in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education and Skills Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Application of curriculum theories, principles, ideologies and models to curriculum development.
- Inclusive curriculum design and implementation for specialist subjects and different cohorts of learners.
- Analysing different curriculum contexts in the Further Education and Skills sector.
- Building equality of opportunity and respect for diversity into curriculum design.
- The impact of social, economic and cultural differences on teaching, learning and achievement.
- The impact of educational use of technology, including generative AI, on curriculum design and teaching.
- Proposing, justifying and evaluating changes to improve the curriculum recognising the roles of external bodies and stakeholders.

SYLLABUS PLAN – summary of the structure and academic content of the module

The module introduces you to current thinking in Professional Studies in the context of teaching your chosen subject in the Further Education Sector. Whilst the module's precise content may vary from year to year, it is envisaged that the syllabus will cover some or all of the following topics:

- Teaching roles, responsibilities, contexts and breadth of practice in the Further Education and Skills sector.
- Concepts of professionalism, core professional values and dual professionalism for teachers in this sector.
- Theories, principles and models of reflective practice and continuing personal and professional development and how these support own development as an autonomous learner.
- Identifying CPD needs, including educational technology, opportunities for development and evaluating the impact on own practice.
- Implications and impact of government policies on teaching and learning in this sector.
- Impact of the educational use of technology

RE-ASSESSMENT NOTES

Written assignment: If a submitted assignment is deemed to be a Fail, you will be given feedback outlining what needs to be done to bring the assignment to a pass standard and one opportunity for resubmission will be allowed. You can choose to resubmit a failed assignment 'in year' (i.e. before the final Assessment Progression and Awards Committee (APAC) in July). The resubmission would normally be made 4 weeks after receiving feedback on the first submission. Alternatively, you may opt to go to the APAC with the fail mark. You will then be referred to the College level APAC who will confirm the conditions for resubmission of the work. Normally the resubmission should be by 1st September. You should discuss these options with your tutor. Note: if you choose the second option, the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the APAC following any successful resubmission (normally held in December). There may not be time to mark a resubmitted assignment before the end of the programme; this will mean that the award of Cert.Ed. (FE) will be delayed until the first APAC after July (this is normally held in December). If an assignment is deemed to be a Fail by the APAC, the mark obtained on resubmission will be capped at 40%.

Cause for Concern Letter and Action Plan

Trainee: XXX

Faculty: XXX

Subject: XXX

Mentor: XXX

Date:

Dear XXXX

Cause for Concern on Progress towards the Professional Standards

This letter is to signal our concern about your present progress on the PGCE/Certificate in Education programme, and to support you in addressing identified needs. Our concern is due to the following:

Absence of more than 10 days from the programme;

- Failure to meet deadlines for university directed tasks or assignments
- □ Insufficient progress towards meeting the Standards for this stage of the course
- Professional engagement with the course

(please tick as applicable)

We are concerned that this puts you at risk of failing to achieve the standards necessary for the award of QTS, and we hope that this letter, and the actions you take as a consequence, will enable you to succeed.

Your University tutor will discuss this with you, following discussion with the school, if appropriate, and will draw up an Action Plan to identify what action you should take to strengthen your position.

Please sign one copy of this letter and return it to your Mentor, in the case of school-based work, or your University tutor, in the case of university-based work.

Yours sincerely

XXX (Course Tutor)

I have received this letter and participated in writing the Action Plan Signed XXX (Trainee)

University of Exeter	EXETER COLLEGE PGCE/Cert Ed PROGRAMMES
	CAUSE FOR CONCERN: ACTION PLAN
	Focus: Addressing Issues arising from a Cause for Concern letter

Please make sure you list all areas which the trainee needs to address in order to meet the Professional Standards. These targets should be discussed, and progress recorded, at the regular Development Meeting.

Standard	SMART Targets	Support	Date to be	Achieved
	(Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, Time-Related)	Please include detail of what training/support is going to be put in place to provide opportunity for the trainee to meet the targets.	completed	and evidence location

If targets are not met by the specified date, new CfC and Action Plan with further support will be issued.

During the Consolidating Practice and Developing Independence phases please remember that, if appropriate and to minimise negative impact on pupil learning, the mentor and tutor can agree that the trainee should return to teaching episodes in some lessons. If this is the case the Action Plan must detail what needs to be evidenced in order to continue to make progress/return to full lessons.
